

ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY

David Newby Associates (DNA) believe that protection of the environment is a vital duty, which must be shared and supported by all. Our aim must be to assist in sustaining the environment and environmental resources for the benefit of both ourselves and successive generations.

Our environmental awareness must encompass all of the company's activities. It is the responsibility of DNA personnel to work together to achieve this goal. With this in mind DNA will ensure that its activities comply with all environmental protection legislation and other legislation concerned with the protection of natural resources and the external environment in all countries we work in.

To achieve this DNA will:

- Implement systems and procedures aimed at achieving our stated environmental management goals.
- As part of our quality system, periodically review the implementation of these policies and procedures.
- Ensure that our personnel are effectively trained and appropriately aware of environmental protection requirements.

As DNA is an environmental consulting company we recognise we have a special duty to:

- Promote environmentally sound practices in the course of our work whenever practicable with particular emphasis on sustainable development.
- Take environmental criteria into account when considering DNA involvement in potential projects.
